

FOR RELEASE AT WILL

Fall/Winter 2003

Contact: Erin Bernall, media relations
(831) 479-9290, erin@bernall.com

CALIFORNIA BED & BREAKFAST INNS ARE PERFECT
FOR REUNIONS, FAMILY VACATIONS, BUSINESS TRAVEL AND MORE

Soquel, CA – Bed and breakfast inns are more than romantic getaways. They are perfect for reunions, family vacations, business travel, personal retreats, and adventure getaways. The California Association of Bed and Breakfast Inns (CABBI) is a non-profit membership organization that represents over 340 distinctive bed and breakfast inns throughout California. CABBI member properties range from historic Victorian mansions to rustic alpine cottages, modern beach-front homes, and boats. Travelers planning a California getaway will find CABBI's website, www.cabbi.com, to be the most thorough, single source of information on bed and breakfast accommodations in the state.

Bed and breakfast properties provide elements not found at conventional hotels. Custom décor in the bedrooms and bathrooms is accentuated with personal touches like fresh flowers, cookies, and books. Each morning, guests are treated to tasty breakfasts ranging from continental choices to elaborate gourmet cuisine. Friendly and professional innkeepers often help guests plan their day by suggesting favorite attractions to visit. Common areas are inviting for social gatherings. Meticulously manicured gardens set the scene for relaxing with a book and a glass of local wine.

Adventure seekers enjoy B&Bs for their convenient access to some of California's top-rated outdoor activities. Properties spanning California's coastline entice surfers, sea kayakers, divers, and fishermen. B&Bs nestled in the mountains are within steps of hiking and mountain bike trails. In the winter, skiing, snowshoeing, and cross-country skiing fill the day's agenda. In the California foothills, fall colors invite visitors to stroll through the streets of historic mining towns. Golfers will find a plethora of championship courses within a 9-iron from their B&B of choice.

- more -

Business travelers to San Francisco, Silicon Valley, Sacramento, San Diego, and the Los Angeles-area choose bed and breakfasts for their modern conveniences such as high-speed Internet access and small group meeting space available at select properties. The comfort of bed and breakfast accommodations and hospitality is also welcome relief after a long day's work. With advance planning, many B&Bs will provide catering service for small business meetings and corporate gatherings.

Family vacations at California B&Bs create long-lasting memories. Family-friendly inns often feature larger guestrooms, suites, and cottages to accommodate children. Hearty breakfasts fuel the family for a day of adventure at nearby tourist attractions, theme parks, beaches, lakes, or historic landmarks. Bed and breakfast inns create a homey and relaxed environment that children and their parents love.

Reunion and wedding planners will find many CABBI properties with large floor plans and expansive grounds to accommodate groups of any size. On-site catering service is available at select properties, while others can recommend local vendors for creating the perfect event.

Personal retreats at bed and breakfast inns invigorate the body, mind, and spirit. The comforts of home, peaceful surroundings, and delicious breakfasts are respite from the hectic schedules of daily routines. Enjoy massage and body treatments at a nearby spa, sample local vintages at elegant wineries, peruse antique stores and boutiques, or savor gourmet cuisine prepared by award-winning chefs. At CABBI inns, guests are pampered with comfort and relaxation.

CABBI member bed and breakfast inns are located throughout five California regions: Northern California, Gold Country/High Sierra, San Francisco Bay Area, Central Coast/Valley, and Southern California. All CABBI-certified properties adhere to the highest quality standards, ensuring that all guests experience the utmost in customer service, amenities, and convenience of choice. For more information on CABBI, please visit www.cabbi.com, or call (831) 462-9191.